
Book Talk:
Engineering America: The Life and Times of John A. Roebling

Tuesday, April 6th
4.30pm to 5.45pm
Zoom webinar

Richard Haw is an Associate Professor of Interdisciplinary Studies and the author of a number of books on the history of Brooklyn, specifically the Brooklyn Bridge. He has written on subjects including literature, history, engineering, architecture, and more.

He will be joined by discussant Gerald Markowitz, Distinguished Professor in the Interdisciplinary Studies department and the author of numerous books on occupational safety and health.

Engineering America is the most comprehensive biography of John Roebling, one of the 19th century's most brilliant engineers, inventors, and manufacturers. The exemplary life and philosophy of the designer of the Brooklyn Bridge were in many ways exemplified by his most famous creation: held together by a delicate balance of countervailing forces.
